

AZLera's Projecto Oceano: Monthly Report – April 2014

This month four new members started their trial period at the project. We are all looking forward to working with them and help them develop their academic and critical thinking skills. During their trial period we will evaluate their participation and commitment to the project. It's been great to have some new members with new ideas on how to bring the project forward.

This month's social debate talked about sexual abuse. It was attended by project members and other participants from the local community. We had an interesting debate with a number of different views and anecdotes regarding local customs on this issue.

Finally our latest version of Voz Jovem was published at the end of April and is now available on the website. This month's news centred on local events including celebrations for Women's Day in Mozambique and a African cinema festival that took place on the island during the last two weeks of April.
